PURPOSE AND METHOD OF OPERATION

FY 2001 Base

The IHS manages approximately $306,000,000 in laboratory, x-ray, and biomedical equipment. Accurate diagnosis and effective therapeutic procedures depend in large part on clinicians using modern and effective medical equipment to assure the best possible health outcomes. The average life expectancy for the current medical inventory is approximately 6 years depending on the intensity of use, maintenance and technical advances. In addition, this activity funds equipment for replacement clinics built by Tribes using non-IHS funding sources, replacement of ambulances, and the transfer of available excess Department of Defense medical equipment to IHS and Tribal health programs.

Funding levels for the last 5 fiscal years follows:

Year	Funding
1997	$14,505,000
1998	$13,005,000
1999	$13,243,000
2000	$14,330,000
2001	$16,294,000	Enacted

Accomplishments

In FY 2000, (1) The equipment program distributed approximately $10 million to existing health care facilities to replace and purchase new medical equipment; (2) A total of approximately $3 million to equip new health care facilities being funded with non-IHS funds was apportioned to tribal applicants; and (3) implemented a biomedical device management system.
