Speaker: Dena Wilson, MD, FACC

Target Audience: Physicians, Nurses, Dietitians and other Healthcare Professionals working in Clinic and Community Health Settings

Agenda:

- Welcome/Continuing Education Credits
- Caring for AI/AN People – A Native American Physician’s Perspective
- Q & A
- Survey/Certificate

Description:

This seminar describes health care services for AI/AN people from the perspective of a Native American cardiologist. It invites health team members to think of ways to be more responsive to the culture and beliefs of their patients and take steps to improve services.

Objectives: As a result of completing this training, participants will be able to:

1. Identify factors in your work place that are associated with cultural and linguistic competency in medical practice.
2. Identify at least three strategies to promote self-awareness about attitudes, beliefs, biases, and behaviors that may influence clinical care.
3. Incorporate strategies to enhance skills toward the provision of culturally competent care.
4. Identify at least one change you will incorporate into your clinical or community health practice as a result of the training.

Note: Before you begin the training, you can review the IHS Privacy Policy (http://www.ihs.gov/privacy\_policy.asp). Also, you can review the Survey Monkey Privacy Policy for details on how user information submitted in the evaluation is protected.
