Providing Care in Montana and Wyoming

The Billings Area Indian Health Service (IHS) provides health care services to more than 70,000 American Indian and Alaska Native people in Montana and Wyoming. These services are delivered through six IHS-operated Service Units, three Tribally operated health departments and four Urban Indian Programs.

The Billings Area is committed to building strong partnerships with local Tribal governments, Tribal communities and Native Americans. Often working through formal consultation processes coordinated by the Rocky Mountain Tribal Leaders Council and meetings with Tribal Councils and Tribal Leaders at the local level, the Billings Area strives to improve the health status of its patients alongside the Governing Boards responsible for the operations of each of its health care facilities.

While each health care facility is unique, all Billings Area facilities are either accredited through the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations or the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care. They also meet the Conditions of Participation by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

The dedicated staff of the Billings Area strive daily to improve the quality of health care delivery, through its Service Units comprised of hospitals and clinics, preventive health and outreach services, alcohol treatment centers, dental and eye care facilities and air and ground emergency transportation. Supporting the staff efforts, the Billings Area Leadership is accessible and responsive to those it serves, the Tribal Leaders and collaborating health care partners.

A World of Opportunities

The Billings Area is hiring in Montana and Wyoming. Positions are available in many medical, professional and administrative specialties. IHS offers competitive salaries, a full range of benefits and, in some cases, signing bonuses. Many positions also offer relocation incentives and opportunities for government housing.

IHS Career Options

IHS offers clinicians a choice of three options to practice their specific health profession discipline: working as a federal civil service employee, as an Officer in the Commissioned Corps of the US Public Health Service (USPHS) or directly for a Tribal or Urban Indian Program. Each of these career options offers career flexibility, competitive salaries and benefits and ample opportunity for advancement.

Federal Civil Service

Professionals who choose to work in the federal civil service earn competitive salaries and are eligible for comprehensive federal and retirement benefits. They also enjoy significant career flexibility, eligibility for advancement and can transfer throughout IHS facilities while still maintaining their benefits.

US Public Health Service (USPHS) Commissioned Corps

One of the seven uniformed services of the United States, the Commissioned Corps offers the opportunity to serve our nation in uniform as a health professional in certain disciplines. The Commissioned Corps is comprised of highly qualified public health professionals protecting, promoting and advancing the health and safety of the nation. Approximately 2,000 Commissioned Corps officers currently serve within IHS. Commissioned Corps officers are eligible for military retirement benefits.

Tribal or Urban Indian Programs

Individuals interested in working within a Tribal or Urban Indian Program negotiate compensation and benefits directly with the Program or Tribe with whom they seek to work. Openings are available in both urban and rural areas.

Our Mission: to raise the physical, mental, social and spiritual health of American Indians and Alaska Natives to the highest level.

Did you know that you can pay off your health profession loans through our Loan Repayment Programs?

The IHS Loan Repayment Program offers health professionals practicing at IHS facilities an opportunity to pay off all of their eligible health education student loans in addition to receiving competitive salaries and benefits. Participants are eligible to receive up to $20,000 per year and can extend their contract annually until all of their loans are paid off. Pursue the opportunity to build your career with IHS and work as part of an interdisciplinary team of health professionals, while gaining the financial freedom to live and work within some of the most picturesque settings in the country.

Additionally, the National Health Service Corps (NHSC) Loan Repayment Program (LRP) offers primary care providers up to $50,000 for a two-year service commitment to work at an approved NHSC site in a high-need, underserved area. Like IHS, NHSC LRP recipients can obtain additional loan repayment by extending their service.
