

We hope this video instruction has been helpful to you in becoming more acquainted with the sanitation services in your home. By taking some simple precautionary steps, you should be able to prolong the life of your equipment, and make it safer and more effective. Please contact Indian Health Service representatives at your field office if you have any questions or concerns.