

Hello. I'm Rear Admiral Kevin Meeks, Director of Indian Health Service for the Oklahoma City area.

As a member of the Chickasaw Nation, I personally take pride in overseeing health services for tribes in Oklahoma, Kansas, and part of Texas.

As a former recipient of sanitation facilities, I know just how important these services are for Indian families.

We're pleased to have served you and your family by installing sanitation facilities in your home.

We hope the new system will be helpful in your everyday lives and provide for the well being of your family.
