About the Presenter

Duane M. Chase, MD, a Native American psychiatrist with 10 years of clinical experience who has spent 9 of those years directly serving the Native American people. In addition to completing a psychiatric residency, I also completed an addiction psychiatry fellowship at the University of New Mexico. Although I see patients with the spectrum of psychiatric illnesses, I specialize in seeing patients with a dual diagnosis of severe mental illness and substance abuse.

Caroline Bonham, MD, is a psychiatrist with the University of New Mexico who provides telebehavioral health care to American Indian communities through the IHS Telebehavioral Health Center of Excellence. She is also the medical director of the Honoring Native Life initiative which provides support for culturally responsive suicide prevention, intervention and postvention activities with Native American communities in New Mexico.

Disclosure Statement

The presenters have no financial relationship to this program.

Continuing Education Credit

To receive a certificate of continuing education, you must electronically sign-in for the session, participate in the entire live internet activity and complete the online evaluation. All participants, outside of pharmacy continuing education credit claimers, will be able to print their certificate after completing the evaluation. The evaluation for this session will close in two weeks after the presentation.
